

Helping Our Clients Power Up Their Business.

WE HAVE SOLUTIONS FOR YOUR BIGGEST PROBLEMS

Congratulations!

The fact that you are reading these pages shows that you are among a select group of great companies who value their employees by considering the support they need for success. We know that with any change project, it can stretch your resources and cause unnecessary stress or conflict. Corpex is here to help you with project execution and also developing your team so they can handle transformational growth.

In today's manufacturing sector, it has become more difficult to find knowledgeable and practical support that understand how things work. We have discovered strategies and best practices that are proven to achieve success in both entrepreneurial and corporate environments. We also realize that you may need customized tools to meet your situation. With that in mind, our offer can take on the form of gap assessments, being your company representative when selecting a business solution or to assist with project execution. We specialize in ERP, CRM, BI, Scheduling, IT infrastructure and data collection, to name a few.

Our second core offer centers around increasing personal and team effectiveness right up to the executive level. Our unique approach includes individual mentoring and group training. We focus on helping our clients find their own strengths followed by identifying internal resources to resolve conflict, reduce stress and to become more productive. Having worked in manufacturing for too many years to count, we can offer you practical advice, guided development and ultimately sustainable results. In addition to traditional means, we offer online and social media driven approaches that allows comfort and flexibility for your team.

In these pages you will find just a few examples of how we can help you reach your full potential as a company. We would be honored to speak with you on how to assist in your journey.

To learn more, please call or email us today. And remember....Leaders can't fly, but they can soar!

Business Solutions

With manufacturing, engineering and computer science backgrounds, our team is able to provide practical business solutions for your challenging problems. We facilitate gap assessments, provide process mapping, and we help with implementation based on your requirements. We can act as your « Outsider-Insider » which means we can represent you when dealing with technical solution providers. We can negotiate, facilitate and problem solve for any ERP, CRM, BI, scheduling or data collection projects. Using our strong IT and business software knowledge, we can ensure you have the decision making data you need to help in your growth. strategies.

Executive & Strategic Development

Training supported by mentorship is 3X more effective than traditional methods because it provides space for consultation and practice. Our unique executive coaching method uses cutting edge human psychology, strategic intervention and 30 years of practical wisdom to find out what is holding you or your employees back from achieving your goals. Through an initial clarity session, we identify what you wish to achieve and we help to clarify what strengths already exist that can be capitalized on to gain immediate momentum. Our approach helps to successfully maneuver stressful or challenging situations while confidently practicing new skills.

Growing Human Connection

If you desire a cohesive, high achieving culture, it is important to understand the personalities of your team. And effective communication is the most difficult yet the most rewarding skill to learn. Using the DISC tool and understanding of the 6 Human Needs, we help you to assess the personalities and the communication styles of your team and show you the best way to interact for effective results. We offer regular and live online training classes that you can pay as you go or join as a member where all classes are covered. We also offer customized in-house training sessions that can be developed around your particular leadership needs.

Group Learning

On average people spend over 2 hours per day on social media. Why not leverage some of that time to hone your leadership skills? Join our SOARING LEADERSHIP Groups on Facebook and LinkedIn where we offer an extensive free library of best practice tips while interacting with our network on a daily basis. When you join our SOARING LEADERSHIP Membership, you get access to our materials and to our biweekly Group Learning Sessions. When you sign up, you will join other leaders just like yourself who want to grow, to learn and to share what has worked for them.
